ANYA  BRITTANY  GEOFFREY  NIKO  PRESLEY  RACHEL

Anya Shikhman is from San Diego, California. She is a senior in the college majoring in Art History. During the spring semester of her junior year at Emory, she was a development intern for the Museum of Contemporary Art Georgia (MOCA GA). This past summer she was an intern at Gagosian Gallery in New York and is going to Art Basel Miami with Gagosian this December to work at their annual exhibition in collaboration with Jeffrey Deitch. She has previously contributed as a writer to HerCampus Emory, and is an active member of the student board of Emory’s Chabad chapter. After graduation, she hopes to continue working in the art industry, focusing on gallery work or public art institutions.

Brittany Gelman is a Senior in the college, majoring in Media Studies with a minor is Sociology. On Campus, Brittany currently serves as the Vice President of Sigma Delta Tau, and as a member of the Social Media & Marketing Team for Spoon University. Last Spring, Brittany served as a Content Promoter Intern for SPORTalk, an online sports social media site. This past summer, Brittany served as the Social Media & Marketing Intern at Fat Camp Films, which she is continuing to intern at remotely throughout her Senior year. She has full control of the company’s social media pages, and helps to market the company’s new movie ‘How To Get Girls’. This internship has also allowed her the opportunity to work with Glass Entertainment Group and Jerry Media. Brittany hopes to find a career in digital media, specifically in the sports or entertainment industries.

Geoffrey Solomon is an actor, artist, and technician from Atlanta. Geoffrey began his professional career in 2014 as an intern at 7 Stages Theater. Since then he has worked as a technician at a number of theaters across Atlanta, and at the Santa Fe Opera House. In the Spring of 2017, Geoffrey started an internship at the ABV Gallery in Old Fourth Ward. He has since been hired on as the weekend gallery manager and project coordinator. Geoffrey is excited to be graduating from Emory University this December with his B.A. in Theater Studies and Integrative Visual Arts, and is honored to have the opportunity to share his experience with other aspiring artistic professionals.

Nikolai Yudin (@nyudes) is a senior at Goizueta Business School from San Francisco, CA double-majoring in Marketing and Chinese. After gaining an international perspective studying abroad in both Beijing and Italy during high school, Nikolai was admitted to Emory with an application essay on marketing and rap music and a California GED. Niko got his start in the music industry interning for a summer in Brooklyn and is currently learning more about the industry through his internship as a Marketing Assistant at Patchwerk Recording Studios. Additionally, Nikolai markets his own Chinese rap under the artist moniker Yudes. Nikolai’s debut-single “ErGuoTou” (prod. Sam Levine) has since been streamed over 30 thousand times in over 110 countries. Following graduation, Nikolai plans to continue learning more about music and working within the Music Industry.

Presley West is a junior double majoring in Media Studies and International Studies. In the Spring of 2017, she took a semester off from classes to pursue a Creative Development & International Sales internship at Good Universe, a film production studio in Los Angeles. She has also interned at immersive media company VRScout, and is currently interning in the editorial division of Modern Luxury Magazines in Atlanta. On campus, Presley serves as the co-publications editor of The Emory Globe.

Rachel Kim is a third-year student in the College majoring in Anthropology and minoring in Music. During the Summer of 2018, Rachel interned at the Center for Puppetry Arts as the Museum Education Intern in Atlanta, GA. She also interned at The Carter Center as a Special Events Intern, where she was the recipient of the Jennie Lewis Scholarship. Before coming to college, she grew up in both Seattle, WA and Seoul, South Korea. On campus, she is involved with the Emory Career Ambassador Program as Program Manager, PACE Peer Leader program, and Emory Med School under fiscal affairs as an administrative assistant. She hopes to work in arts administration after she graduates from Emory University.
